

HELP BELLA TUCKER

On Easter

Sunday over the course of 12 hours, 8 year old Bella Tucker of Chelmsford, MA went from enjoying an Easter Egg Hunt with her cousins to being med-flighted to Children's Hospital Boston with a serious Pneumococcal Strep infection. She remained in a coma for five days and survived the ordeal, however, not without extensive tissue damage.

On April 27th, 2010, Bella's life severely changed when doctors were forced to amputate all four limbs. After multiple surgeries and nearly 5 months in the hospital, Bella was recently transferred to a rehab facility where her courage, strength and incredible attitude have become an inspiration to everyone she meets.

Bella Tucker and her family are in urgent need for financial support for medical, living, and home renovation expenses. Please consider donating.
